From the Editor

Dear Reader,

It's time to begin thinking about AmSECT's 32nd International Conference. It will be held April 8-11, 1994, in Anaheim, California. I encourage you to submit papers to be presented and have enclosed an Abstract form with this issue.

All papers and poster presentations may be submitted to the Journal for publication. These papers will go through the peer review process and become permanent records of your work when they are published. I hope you will consider presenting and publishing your research to share it with the perfusion community.

Convention papers must adhere to the same requirements as regular submissions to the Journal, so please refer to the Instructions for Authors included in each issue. Following these directions will expedite the review of your paper and ensure its timely publication.

I hope you have found the papers published from the 31st International Conference valuable. There are several more convention papers in this issue and there will be more in the next and final issue of Volume 25. We thank the authors for their efforts to expand and refine the science of perfusion.

Sincerely,

Phyllis Palmer Stark, CCP
